The site is very buggy due to the fact that user-created games are made in such a way that users can alter almost every aspect of any game. However, this has upsides too as users can fix most bugs themselves. They have often been taken down because they are "offensive". This is hard to believe since the site has been around for nearly 10 years. ROBLOX allows people to advertise on their site for just about any product they want and will let them earn money with it. However, this can be considered a bad thing in some cases, as advertisers can create "scams", such as charging people $5 dollars to create a game that can only be played by Admins or other users with unusual settings/roles.

In 2021, a new logo was introduced to represent the company: it consisted of a white capital letter "O" on a black background. The logo underwent several changes under various visual design changes during this period. The "O" was sundered into two smaller, green squares with rounded bottoms that closely resembled the shape of the letter "L", which remained in use until 2021. In 2021, ROBLOX released an entirely new logo based on the previous one: this iteration featured a black capitalized "R" on a white background. It was designed to feature the company's name without any visual association to the original logo. The previous logo is still in use today, albeit with a thicker frame.

On June 26th, 2021, ROBLOX CEO John Hanke made an announcement on Twitter that the company would be removing the ability to create avatars for users within games and requiring new avatars to be created instead. Once this update was implemented however, users were able to create new models based on existing ones and preserve them as a template which they could then upload into games alongside their original avatar. This update was to lower fraud within the site with copyright infringement and promoting copyright infringement by bypassing game mechanics by allowing users to create avatars of other users' games.[21]
